Board Asked To Oust Flying Service Operator

A plea to oust Patrick Horrigan as operator of Stennis Field Flying Service was made to county supervisors Monday by Eagan Carroll, until recently manager of the controversial operation.

In a denunciation of Horrigan's operation, Carroll asked the board to rescind or cancel the contract with Horrigan, accusing the New Orleans man of not acting in the best interests of Hancock County. Carroll cited several reasons for his request, among them the fact that Horrigan has still not posted the performance bond called for in the contract with the Port and Harbor Commission, and an allegation that Horrigan had not made significant monetary contributions to the county through the flying service operation.

Supervisors concurred with Board President Dolph Keller's statement that the matter would be taken under advisement pending further investigation.

In an unrelated action, supervisors ratified requests by Sheriff Sylvan Ladner for revenue sharing expenditures in the sheriff's department.

The board approved adjustments in the sheriff's budget to hire Robert Tartavouille as a full time deputy; to raise to $315 per month salaries for part-time deputies A.J. Cuevas and Willie Lee; to increase Special Agent Ronald Peterson's salary from $600 per month to $633, commensurate with other deputies' salaries. Peterson is now paid in part through a Law Enforcement Assistance grant, but the raise will come from the county's share, Ladner stated.

Another attempt was made by supervisors to resolve the problem of affecting county road repair projects under revenue sharing funding. After considerable discussion a solution still was not reached, so the matter was again held in abeyance until the next meeting April 16.

Frishie Claims

Five Men

Hired Illegally

Commissioner William Frishie said Monday that he will not sign payroll checks for five city employees he claims have been put on the city payroll illegally by Mayor Warren Carver.

Frishie made the statement at the regular council meeting after he told Carver that state law prohibits hiring extra personnel, except in an emergency situation, four months prior to an election.

Carver denied Frishie's charges however, contending that the five men were needed in the street department to clean ditches in the past four to six weeks because of heavy rainfall.

"I am not hiring people to get votes. If I have to get them that way, I don't want them," Carver said.

The Mayor then explained that the men were hired on a temporary basis and their work would be finished in about two to three weeks. "I felt that if it was an emergency situation," Carver added.

Frishie also asked Carver why regular street employees were not given an opportunity to make overtime pay by clearing the ditches. "Your men could have worked ten hours a day and made extra money. . . I know my employees like to work overtime whenever possible," Frishie stated.

Carver explained that he felt that the extra work would have been a burden on regular employees and for that reason he hired the extra personnel. The council decided to pay Sanitrol Systems $1250 for recent work on the algae problem at the city's sewerage treatment pond and agreed to hire the firm on a month-to-month basis at a cost of $500 per month.

In other business, the council: — Will advertise for bids to paint the exterior of city hall. — Agreed to take out insurance on the Valena C. Jones Building and to double the present insurance on city hall and the Webb Center.

E. J. Marengo, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce president, made a formal protest on behalf of the Chamber against the board's allocation of 70 per cent of revenue sharing monies for county road projects. While the Chamber approved of county road improvements, Marengo stated, it was felt that 70 per cent was an unfairly excessive figure. His appeal for reconsideration of that amount was cut short by Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner who threatened a cut back or cessation of county funds to the Chamber in reprisal.

On two different occasions during the meeting, Beat One residents in the Lower Bay Road and Lakeshore community areas complained of bad road conditions. On intercession by Ladner, two women who said they lived in the area "behind Tennessee Gas

To Buy Or Not To Buy?

Are local shoppers participating in the national meat boycott?

Because there were no visible signs Monday and Tuesday, The Sea Coast Echo made a check of five markets in this area to see if indeed, our shoppers had decided to "eat cheese".

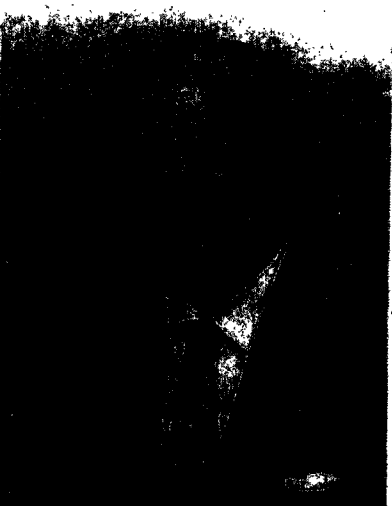

Food Discount Center in Bay St. Louis reported that meat sales had dropped 40 per cent Monday and Tuesday. However, on the other side of the coin, Marty's Meats and Delicatessen in Waveland said that "business was as usual".

Information from Winn-Dixie and A&P, both of Bay St. Louis, was unavailable, but V&M Super Market in Pass Christian replied that the "boycott really started two months ago because of gradual increases in meat prices".

Sociologists and national poll takers would have a hard time using this area for a random sampling.

To paraphrase a famous ad truism: "Only the shopper knows for sure".

OVERALL SUPERIOR . . . was the rating accorded to the Bay High School band in state band competitions Tuesday in Raymond, Miss. Above, band director Joe Cacibauda, complete with plaque, is surrounded by some of his happy band members. The band, which swept the field in musical awards, was honored on its return home by a police escort and keys to the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Bay High Band Wins Top Honors

The Bay High School band distinguished itself in state band competitions Tuesday by bringing home the first Overall Superior rating in 27 years.

Band members, accompanied by band director Joe Cacibauda, returned from state-wide band competitions held in Raymond, Miss., Tuesday, laden with honors. The 54-member marching and concert group won top honors in every division entered, winning individual awards as well as a unit.

Along with the Overall Superior rating, the band was cited as Superior in Concert, Excellent in Sight Reading and Superior in Marching. Cathy Starita was judged Superior in Signal Drum Major and Ken Rayborn received an Excellent in Student Conducting.

Justifiably proud of his students, Cacibauda displayed a plaque designating the group Division One rating, presented by the Mississippi High School Activities Association.

A hero's welcome was given the returning band by both Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials. Bay and Waveland police cars escorted the band bus down the highway from the Ramada Inn to the Bay Junior High School, where Bay Mayor Warren Carver and Waveland Alderman Albert Grass presented keys to their respective cities to the tired but elated students.

Kearney Arrested On Possession

Hancock sheriff's deputies arrested Peter Kearney, 19, of Bay St. Louis, March 30 on a narcotics charge when he was found to be in possession of about an ounce of marijuana.

Kearney and two companions were stopped on highway 90 by Deputies Ronald Peterson and Fairley Nocaise about 11:30 p.m. as they were returning to Bay St. Louis. Kearney was booked at the county jail and later released on a $1,000 bond pending a Thursday hearing before Peace Justice Roger Dale Ladner.

Waveland Officials Plan Meeting With Supervisors

Waveland officials will request a meeting with the Hancock County board of supervisors next week to discuss including city streets in the county's proposed revenue sharing road improvement projects.

Alderman John Longo pointed out at Tuesday night's city board meeting that since supervisors have allocated 70 per cent of revenue sharing money for road improvement, a portion of this percentage should be spent on municipal streets and roads.

"Seventy per cent of county revenue comes from the cities," Longo said, "and I think we should make sure that the municipalities won't be neglected."

Although the board of supervisors has designated the amount to be spent, no announcement has been made specifying which roads will be included in the project.

In other business, the board:

— Agreed to work with the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 77 and Waveland merchants in a beautification project for the city. — Purchased a $10 ad in the Hancock Hawk supporting the upcoming Community Bargain Days sponsored by several Waveland merchants.

Texas Man Charged With Arson, Grand Larceny

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, Jr. and Deputy Lathon Garriga arrested a 32-year-old man Friday accused of acts of arson and grand larceny in two Bayou Phillips Road night clubs.

Garvin Lee Patrick was arrested by the sheriff after complaints against the Texas man were brought by operators of Nell's Hideaway and the Swinging Doors Lounge, both located in the Springwood Park area.

Patrick, who had been employed by Ben Christmas, operator of Nell's Hideaway, was booked at the county jail on one count of arson in the first degree, one count of arson in the fourth degree, and three counts of grand larceny.

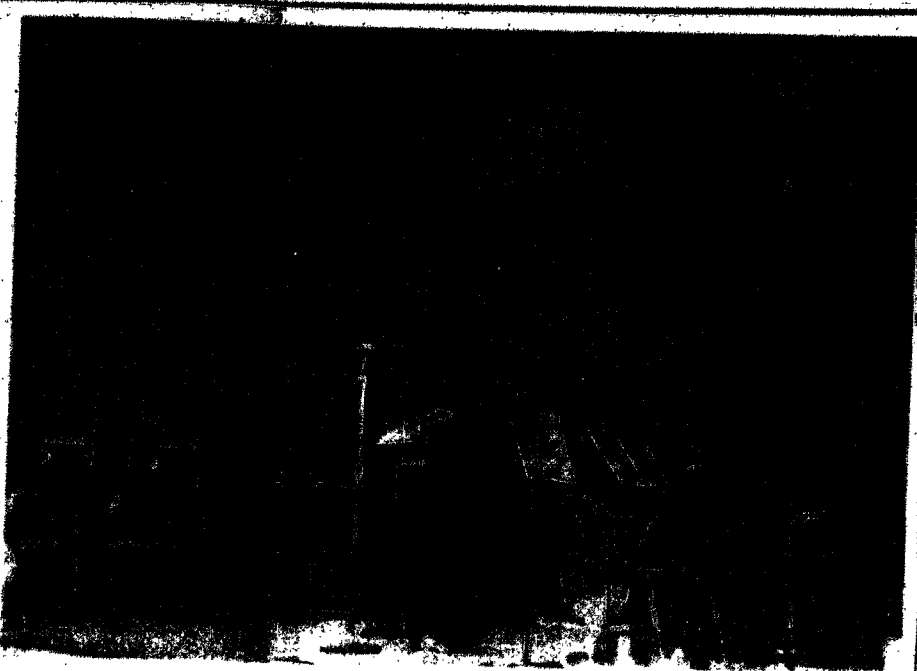

Patrick was accused of setting the fire which destroyed Nell's Hideaway

ALMOST TWO FEET LONG, this sea seal was captured in a ditch on the Gulfview Elementary School campus last week, following unseasonably high tides and heavy rains. Conjecture among the school faculty is that the hapless seal, now a science class specimen, was washed the better than two miles inland in flooded drain ditches.

Alonzo Shuttle

On a recent network newscast, one of the announcers introduced a mayoral candidate in Los Angeles who, as part of her campaign, dresses as a leprechaun and sings her campaign promises.

Now, things are not that bad here yet.

But think of the possibilities.

What would happen if the three Bay St. Louis officials (two of whom are definitely running again) decided to compose campaign songs?

Because these three men are very busy, The Sea Coast Echo decided to relieve them of that burden and came up with the following jingles.

FOR MAYOR WARREN CARVER:
(To the tune of "On the Street Where You Live")

I have often watched the ditches clogging up
And I've wondered why the streets in town keep breaking up
When the people call---I send some one out
Hoping that it won't happen again

But, oh, the unusual feeling
Just to know our meeting is near
The oh, so unusual feeling
That any second Bill may suddenly appear!
(REPEAT FIRST FOUR LINES)

FOR COMMISSIONER WILLIAM FRISBIE

(To the tune of "Jingle Bells")
Sewerage pipes, sewerage ponds
Broken water mains
These are things... that have bugged me
But I can't complain!

Will I run? Will I run?
Soon I must decide
Warren's hoping that I won't
I'll keep him mystified

FOR COMMISSIONER ANDRE ARCENEUAUX
(To the tune of "My Favorite Things")

Checks with big figures I love to deposit
Taxes collected look good on the audit
Money, yes money, and the register rings
These are a few of my favorite things

When the boys fight, and the tape's on
And I'm feeling sad
I simply remember my adding machine
Then I don't feel so bad

The three incumbents must excuse us for "creating" songs which dealt mostly with the past.
But no one knows what the future will bring.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

Since there has been so many people who are untrained, and uninformed trying to run the retarded school, it has done lots to damage the future of the retarded children. I think the only interest Mrs. Ruth Summers had in the retarded school was from a monetary and political standpoint. I would like to relate a little history of the starting of the retarded school in Hancock County. When I was County Superintendent from 1960-1964, the retarded school was started by Mr. E. P. Ortle, past President of the Hancock County School Board, and I. He and I agreed to give Mr. Leon Payne $65.00 per month to transport the retarded children to Henderson Point, where they were picked up by a Harrison County Bus and carried to the retarded center. When the old County Hospital was not used any more as a Hospital Mr. E. P. Ortle and I got permission from the Board of Supervisors to use it for the retarded children classroom, this was in 1962 or 1963. We looked around to find a teacher, someone told us about Mrs. Baker at Logtown she was such a lovely person. We contacted her and she agreed to take the job at $90.00 per month traveling each day from Logtown to Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Baker did not care so much about publicity or money she was interested in retarded children in Hancock County. When I left here in 1964 the retarded children's school was running very smoothly but at that time untrained people like Mrs. Ruth Summers and others were not trying to run it. Mrs. Summers has tried to make it look as if I am against retarded children, personally I think the above statements I have made is proof that I am 100 per cent behind the program.

The Special Education Class at Hancock North Central which Mrs. Summers is referring to, the Special Education Teacher quit and came to Bay St. Louis City Schools. The reason she quit she told me she was offered $8,000.00 per year to teach in Harrison County. I told her I could not pay her that much. She was paid more money than the other teachers by the past administrator and I told Mrs. Ladner that I would have to pay the salary schedule set up by the State, she said this would cut her salary which it would have because she was paid more by the Past Supt. of Education. I asked Mr. Joe D. McCulloch Supt. of Bay St. Louis City Schools and he told me he paid Mrs. Ladner the 1972-73 salary schedule which was the same as I had offered her. Special Education teachers are hard to find, I could not find a teacher anywhere, but if one can be found next year we will have one where needed.

About the deplorable situation that Clermont Harbor was in from a health point, when I took Office in 1972. The Clermont Harbor School's trash was piled in the auditorium that took much of the space there, I sent the maintenance man down and disposed of all the trash. I would like for some people who are builders instead of people who are always trying to tear down take a look at the improvements made. I would like to say to Mrs. Ruth Summers that the petition that Mrs. Lamb presented to the Hancock County School Board did not have any effect on the improvements or the day care center. I think that the Hancock County School District is bearing all the expense for the retarded school and half of the students attending the center are from Bay St. Louis City Schools, which the County does not get any tuition from the City of Bay St. Louis. I think the Hancock County School Board should be praised instead of being ridiculed by a few people that are seeking publicity. "I did not make a remark that, I did not want to fool with retarded children, that all they did was sleep." I believe Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Crawley will testify before any group that I have cooperated with them to make the retarded school a success. Mrs. Crawley and Mrs. Giles wrote an article was published the Sea Coast Echo giving me the first fair publicity in regard to my cooperation in the school, which I appreciate very highly. I told Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Crawley that I would help them to get expense money to go to Ellenville, Miss. I also told them I would help if needed to, but after the article of praise about me in the Echo paper, Mrs. Lamb reprimanded Mrs. Giles about the favorable article in my behalf.

I want to explain why Mrs. Ruth Summers job was discontinued. The Federal Government contributes money through Title I, III, and IV-A, which pays for aides to help teachers in the classroom. When I checked into how Mrs. Summers was being paid I found that she was not being paid out of Government Aid Funds, but she was being paid out of Hancock County District Funds, which I thought the District could not stand the expense. I told Mrs. Summers when the Title IV-A Program started I would use her in that program, but she became so hostile toward me, I assume she would not want to work for a person she was fighting so much.

As to the need for a Special Education Teacher at Hancock North Central since the Title III Program was put in at the school each child is taught on his own intelligence level it helped solve the Special Education Problem. At Hancock North Central I have had some of the parents whose children are retarded who are sending their children to Hancock North Central say that the Title III Program is helping their retarded child. I am going to survey the situation at Hancock North Central and if a Special Education class is needed I am going to employ as many teachers as needed to carry out the program efficiently.

I would like to say that I wish all people connected with the retarded school would get all malice out of their hearts, and greed for publicity and put our shoulders to the wheels to make the Hancock County Retarded School one of the best schools in the nation.

In conclusion I want to praise Mrs. Crawley and Mrs. Giles for doing such a splendid job considering all the discord in the organization. I want to assure the public considering all the bad publicity that I have gotten from a few people that I am the only one who knows how I feel toward helping the retarded children, or the handicapped. I hope we can place some of the boys and girls out at the Voc-Tech Center to help teach them a trade where they can earn a living for themselves.

Sincerely,
K.G. McCarty
Supt. of Education

MANAGING OVERSEEDED PERMANENT PASTURES

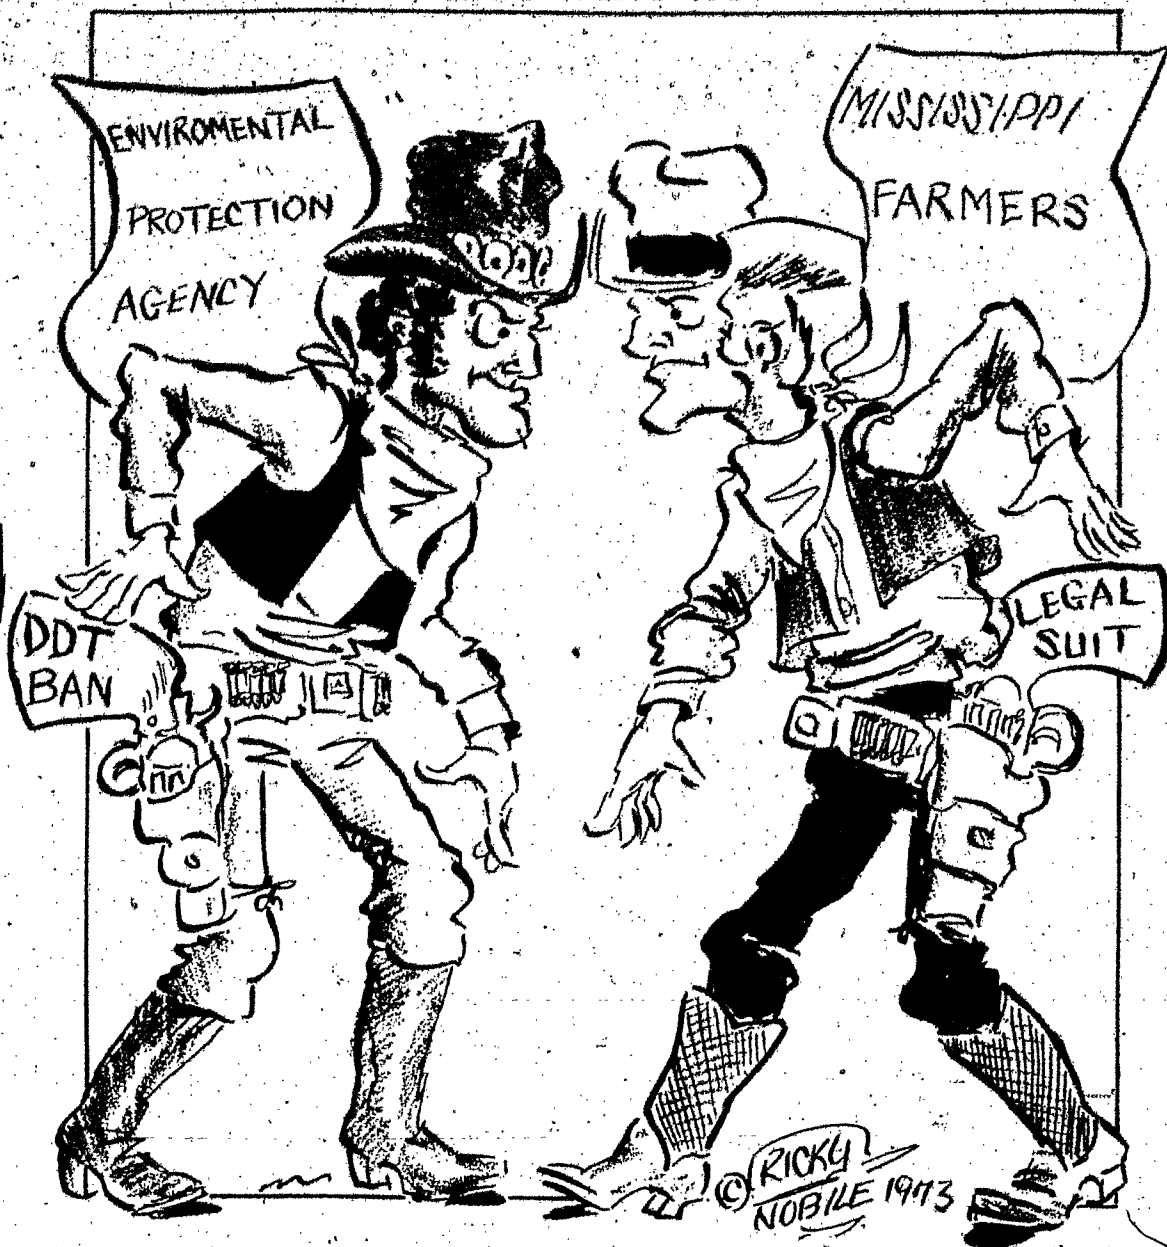

Overseeded permanent pastures must be properly managed during the spring to adequately utilize the ryegrass forage produced and not penalize the permanent grass according to John W. Smith, County Agent.

Overseeding ryegrass is really growing since the weather has turned warm. As these areas begin to produce more forage than the cattle grazing them can consume, add more cattle. It is very important that you not let these overseeded areas grow up. If they are kept grazed close, the permanent sod of bahia-grass or bermuda grass can start to grow along with the ryegrass. By concentrating cattle on the overseeded area you can let some of your grazing planted on a prepared seedbed grow up to be harvested for hay. After the winter we have just experienced, we need to save all the quality hay possible and ryegrass harvested properly makes excellent hay.

While the cattle are grazing out your overseeded areas, summer grasses can get a start and be well established by early May when the ryegrass usually runs out. Cattle can then be shifted to these areas and allow the overseeded bahia and bermuda pastures to come back. Any surplus bahia or bermuda should be harvested for hay as the first growth in the spring is the highest quality forage produced during the season.

When ryegrass is allowed to grow up on permanent sod pasture, the summer grass is slow coming out. If you overseeded more sod areas than your cattle can graze out and you must cut

SHOWDOWN

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

April was one of the most crucial months in the four years of the Civil War. The conflict actually began in this month with the bombardment of Fort Sumter on April 12, 1861, and one of the first local engagements was a clash at Huntsville, Alabama, on April 1st, 1862. The great battle of Shiloh was fought on April 6 and 7 just across the border from Mississippi—and incidentally, if you have never visited that historic battlefield a weekend trip there, including part of the Natchez Trace, would be well worth your time; the site is beautifully kept up and there is an interesting museum. More than 3000 men on both sides were slain in this two-day battle, and 16,000 wounded.

New Orleans fell to Admiral Farragut on April 25, 1862, and just a year later the bloody battle of Grand Gulf, Mississippi, was fought. Grierson's famous raid from La Grange, Tennessee, to Baton Rouge began on April 17, 1863, and on April 30 of the same year began the first battle of the Wilderness in which Stonewall Jackson was killed.

As the Confederacy started with victory in April, so it ended with defeat in the same month four years later. Mobile, long invested by the ubiquitous Farragut, finally fell in April, 1865. The siege of Petersburg, Virginia, also came to an end in that month with the capture of Fort Gregg by the Federals and the evacuation of the city, and the long and bloody retreat up the Appomattox river and the final heart-breaking surrender of General Lee at the famous Courthouse. The last Southern troops under General Kirby Smith laid down their arms a month later, on May 25.

In Mississippi, most of the heavy fighting took place in the central and northern sections. Corinth and Port Hudson were captured in mid-1862, Jackson fell to Grant on May 14, 1863, and two days later at the fierce battle of Champion's Hill near Jackson, Pemberton was forced back into Vicksburg, and two days after that Natchez was taken by Union troops. Then came the long and terrible siege of Vicksburg and its final surrender to Grant on July 4, 1863. Other bloody battles in the north part of the State were at Iuka, Brice's Cross Roads and Tupelo.

But while there was little fighting and bloodshed in the Gulf Coast section, the people here suffered as heavily from privation and loss of loved ones as any in the South. The few journals and letters that have survived the war tell of hardship and hunger and sorrow. Even after Johnnie came despondently home again things for awhile were even worse, as there was no work for the men and the evils of Reconstruction made life unbelievably harsh. Mississippi, the second State to join the Confederacy, was the ninth to be readmitted into the Union, five years after the war ended, so the terrible aftermath lasted a long time. As Nathaniel Lee said, "When the sun sets, shadows that showed at noon but small, appear most long and terrible."

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is preparing final plans some areas for hay, harvest this hay as early in May as possible.

The tonnage of early cut ryegrass may be down but the quality will more than make up the difference. A good thumb rule is to overseed no more than one-half to two-thirds of your permanent sod pastures.

Manage your pasture crops like any other field crop so that you can get the greatest profit from your efforts.

ENROLL NOW FOR MEDICAL INSURANCE PART OF MEDICARE

People 65 and older who haven't already signed up for the medical insurance part of Medicare can enroll now through April 2 at any social security office, according to Joseph D. Alfonso, social security representative in Gulfport.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses. It is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and general revenues from the Federal Government. The basic premium is $5.80 a month through June 1973. It will be increased to $6.30 a month, starting July 1, 1973.

"You have 7 months to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare the first time," Mr. Alfonso said. "You can apply in the 3 months before you are 65, the month you become 65, or the 3 months thereafter. But you must apply during the 3-month period before you're 65 to have protection beginning the month you become 65. Otherwise your protection will begin with a later month."

This year's general enrollment period has been extended through Monday, April 2, because March 31 falls on Saturday.

"Previously," Mr. Alfonso said, "you had to sign up in an enrollment period that began within 3 years after you became eligible for medical insurance or within 3 years after your protection stopped because you cancelled. The 3-year deadline was eliminated by the 1972 amendments to the social security law."

"If you cancel your medical insurance, you can re-enroll only once," he said.

Nine out of 10 people 65 and over are enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare. Last year the medical insurance program paid over $2 billion in benefits on behalf of more than 104 million people.

The medical insurance part of Medicare supplements the Medicare hospital insurance program which helps pay for hospital bills and certain post-hospital expenses.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The Gulfport social security office is at 62015 Pass Road. The phone number is 896-1323.

TRYING TO get a suntan on the beach in Bay St. Louis is no problem for a pooch with a dog tag—perhaps a feline visitor now and then but at least it's not a two-legged animal known as the DOGCATCHER. BOARD ASKED TO OUST FLYING SERVICE OPERATOR...

Co., admitted that they were instructed to complain to the board by an unidentified caller, Beat One Constable Elvye Yarbrough also requested that dangerously soft shoulders on the Beach Road in Clermont Harbor be filled with gravel as cars parking beside the beach road have been bogging down.

Chancery Clerk John Rutherford reminded supervisors that Senate Bill 1628 required that all city and county vehicles and equipment must be clearly marked and periodic inspections by state audit department personnel are imminent. Disciplinary action will be taken against any beat with unmarked vehicles.

County engineer Larry Seal informed the board that the Caesar-Necaise Road is now complete and ready for acceptance by the county. A motion to that effect was passed.

A board resolution requesting that Hancock County be included in the disaster area following the March 24 storm and hand carried to the Governor's office by Lucien Kidd and Jerry Ladner, is under consideration by state Civil Defense officials, Kidd reported. A comprehensive damage survey compiled by county engineers Larry Seal and Donn Murray was lauded by Jackson officials, Kidd said, as being "the best and most complete of all 31 county surveys submitted."

In another matter, Seal told the board that State Road Aid Division officials have verbally accepted a main access road in Shoreline Park, running from Highway 90, as a state aid project. However according to Frank Broome, state aid engineer, the county must bear the cost of fill material for the project and investigation of a dirt pit adjacent to the road for fill purchase was suggested. The project would require approximately 7,000 to 8,000 yards of fill material, Seal estimated, which if the job were contracted out, would be contractor-supplied. Beat Four Supervisor H.G. Zengarling said he would perform the work rather than contracting it out.

Senior Citizens Happenings

The Senior Citizens have been so busy lately we haven't had a chance to write articles to let you know what we've been doing...but we really have been doing!

March 21 we joined with the AARP and made the trip to Bellingrath Gardens. That was really great - 37 Senior Citizens out for a holiday. We sang most of the way there and back. Gene Hathaway had obtained small musical instruments. Most of us bought a picnic lunch to eat out under the trees and then took our time walking around the beautiful gardens. Mayor Warren Carver joined us and we all had a wonderful day.

Back at the Center we are having art ceramics, Spanish classes, and a stitch and chat group. Our ladies are dressing dolls for the Fireman's Toy and Doll fund, entering the beautification contest, and winning ribbons at the County Fair. Several from the group have also participated as judges at the Jaycee parade for Mardi Gras and for the Beautification Committee show. The Monday afternoon social is still our biggest hit, and we are meeting monthly in Pearlington now too. Next will be Kiln!

We are looking forward to a countywide picnic in May - Senior Citizen month. We work for our County and have a good time too. Anyone 60 or older is invited to join us - you can help as a volunteer and get helped at the same time.

Book Review Planned During Library Week

National Library Week will be celebrated in Bay St. Louis with a variety of activities, according to Norton Haas, Sr., chairman.

"April 8 to 14 has been declared National Library Week and has been set aside to focus attention on the value of all kinds of libraries - public, school, college and special research - to the community. It is also time to make the public aware of the many services of the Library, and we hope to focus attention on our public library as an institution for continuing education, and as a place to go for information as well as recreation," Haas said.

Among the special events held during National Library Week will be a Book Review at the Library on Thursday, April 12, at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Benjamin Yancey of New Orleans will give the review.

Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, Publicity Chairman, Friends of the Library or if you just need a helping hand - call us at 467-4881. Our supervisors, commissioners and members give us wonderful cooperation and help and we all appreciate it. The local businesses have all made donations to our programs and so have individuals. We couldn't even operate without our volunteers. I guess we average about 300 hours a week of volunteer time around here!

Homemakers Welcome New Members

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Le Vasseur, president, three new members, Mrs. Juliette Cook, Mrs. A. C. Merdier and Mrs. Shirley Mattison were introduced.

Theatre Presents Third Play

By Emily DeMontuzin

"Invitation to a March", the third play of the season at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, was presented to near-capacity audiences on three nights of last week. It was produced by L.A. Onstad and co-directed by Evelyn Griffith and Helen King, with Joseph Servat as technical director, and it must on all counts rate as one of the best-performed plays of the local theatre in recent years.

"Different" is an adjective that comes immediately to mind, for the script by Broadway playwright Arthur Laurents is neither comedy nor tragedy, drama nor social comment, though it combines elements of all. Even its form is different, since the characters often turn to the audience and speak to them quite conversationally, even sharing with them private jokes and secret thoughts. Decidedly different, too, is the obvious decision of the author to have no clear-cut leading man or leading lady, so that all eight roles are good ones. Perhaps, however, in the Bay St. Louis production, the most appropriate choice of the word "different" could apply to the cast, only one of whom had been seen on the local stage before. It was indeed refreshing to see new faces and to discover such a treasure-trove of talent as appeared in that cottage setting on the South shore of Long Island.

The action of the play revolves around the approaching marriage of Norma, played by pretty Melanie Lafont, to Schuyler, played by talented newcomer Lee Gillis, though it soon becomes evident that their story is not the real concern of the playwright. Instead, it is the summertime romance of twenty years ago that took place on the same Long Island beach between Schuyler's father and a certain Camilla Jablonski, a local lass with decided views of her own on love and marriage. Helen King, in the role of Camilla, showed her extensive experience in the theatre and gave an appreciative audience a sensitive portrayal of Camilla's complex character. Schuyler's father, Tucker Grogan, a wealthy man who never dreamed of seeing his first love again when he returned to Long Island for the wedding, was competently played by Pete Street, who says that he came to the theatre to help backstage and found himself on stage instead. Camilla's son Aaron was portrayed by L.A. (Skip) Onstad, whose only previous role had consisted of one minute and three words in "Plaza Suite". In the part of Aaron Jablonski, however, he had a key role and gave a convincing performance.

A special treat to the audience was the performance of Anita Brewer as mother of the groom-to-be. Like Helen King, she has long been actively involved in theatre work, and she gave an assured and memorable characterization of Deedee Grogan, evoking immediate audience response. Carolyn Leysen, as Lily Brown, mother of the bride-to-be, is a real "find" for the local stage...a naturally gifted actress who never knew before that she could act. Like Pete Street, she came to offer backstage help, but to the theatre's good fortune found herself facing footlights instead.

Completing the cast was thirteen-year-old Tommy Koger, who played his first role with all the aplomb and talent one would expect from such Little Theatre-oriented parents as Doug and Faith Koger. A trumpet-player in the St. Stanislaus band, Tommy had a perfect opportunity as Cary Brown to use his musical ability and to play a precocious red-headed brat besides, a modern day reincarnation of Tarkington's Penrod.

The delightful beach cottage settings were designed and constructed under the supervision of Joseph Servat, working with Vic Frankiewicz, Cliff Sivori, and Robb Sanford. Set decoration and art work were done by Faith Koger, Mike Sanford, Becky Adams, and Betty Keatings. Lighting effects were by Fred Wagner and Vic Frankiewicz, and sound effects were by Phyllis Gillis. Becky Prevou was script girl, make-up was done by Mr. Philip and Judy Barrett, and props were collected and provided on-stage by Alice Merlin, Sud Onstad, Larrie Berry, Hope Holmes, and Carrie Lizana. Program art work was by David Koger.

Of particular interest to the theatregoers was the exhibit, arranged in the lobby by Mrs. Jean Gleim, of paintings, ceramics, and other artistic displays by Brother Hilbert of St. Stanislaus and by the well-known Coast artist Wiley Churchill.

Miss Claire Lanigan Weds Thomas Matthews

Miss Colleen Claire Lanigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Lanigan, Metairie, La., became the bride of Thomas Eugene Matthews, son of Mrs. Ernest Potts and the late Dr. William B. Matthews, in a recent ceremony in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, Metairie. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry Besou performed the evening candlelight ceremony. Branched lighted candelabra, baskets and golden urns of white flowers decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Victorian candlelight gown featuring a Cluny lace bertha collar and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Cluny lace outlined the hemline. Her floor length veil fell from a matching lace headpiece embroidered in seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of off-white sweetheart roses and dried flowers.

Miss Sharon McCallon of Metairie attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Maria Zara and Tena Greco, both of Metairie, cousins of the bride. Don Hiller was best man and Michael DeViney, Metairie, were groomsmen. William Matthews Jr., brother of the groom, and Tom and Tim Lanigan, twin brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The bridesmaids wore brown taffeta floor length gowns with beige lace bertha collar and cuffs. Beige satin ribbon outlined the waistlines and matching ribbons were used in their hair. They carried bouquets of dried flowers in various autumn tones interspersed with beige satin streamers.

A TRIBUTE to past power and energy is expressed in this metal sculpture by artist Joe Davis, which he describes simply as "a convoluted chrome concept". The sculpture, along with other pieces by Davis and three local metal sculptors will be shown in the Spring Exhibit at Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis, opening April 9 with an evening reception. The exhibit is sponsored and hung by Friends of the Library in honor of National Library Week.

Community Mental Health

BY DR. RAY COXE 363-1132
Gulf Coast Mental Health Center

FIRST GRADE DEVELOPMENTAL SCREENING

This year for the first time in Hancock County a comprehensive evaluation has been made of the individual learning potential of every first grade child in the Bay-Waveland city schools—at no additional cost to the school system or the community.

Since such community services as child guidance clinics and sheltered workshops for the handicapped are provided in Hancock County only on a part-time basis or through agencies in larger communities such as New Orleans or Gulfport, most of the parents of the 4,000 children in Hancock County have had limited access to qualified professional guidance or counseling services, and, consequently, most of the specialized needs of children with potential learning difficulties have not been provided.

Educators have long been aware that children with learning problems can be helped more easily when they are young. The National Education Association estimates that one in every five children in the public schools has some type of handicap which prevents him from obtaining the maximum benefit from his school experience. Delays in understanding a child's difficulties frequently result in the development of a "failing" attitude by the child, his parents, and his teachers. Unfortunately, comprehensive programs for evaluating large numbers of students on an individual basis have not been feasible before due to high expenses (about $150 per child) and lack of qualified personnel.

In May, 1972, a meeting of school officials and representatives of social agencies was held to discuss the need for evaluative and remedial services for the school system in Hancock County. At this meeting it was decided that such a program was needed and that testing should be focused on children entering the first grade. The Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary agreed to provide volunteers to administer the tests with no cost to the community or the school system. Dr. Ray Cox of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center agreed to provide the training of the volunteers and supervise the testing of the children as a part of the Mental Health Center's services in Hancock County.

During the summer prior to the 1972-73 school year weekly training classes were held to enable the twenty-four Junior Auxiliary members participating in the program to become proficient in administering and scoring the tests of learning potential. The four tests used in the program include the Illinois Test of Psycholinguistic Abilities (measuring language), the Frostig Developmental Test of Visual Perception (measuring fine and visual motor control), the Purdue Perceptual-Motor Survey (measuring gross motor control), and the Slosson Intelligence Survey (measuring intelligence).

Beginning in September, 1972, the Junior Auxiliary members under the direction of Dr. Cox individually tested all the first graders in the Bay-Waveland city schools. This was a major volunteer undertaking involving up to ten volunteers a day, three mornings per week for five months, a total of some 902 hours of volunteer service. Lila Jean Dearing, Junior Auxiliary President, was responsible for organizing the volunteers; who included Marcia Artigues, Rubie Chapman, Evelyn Cox, Pat Favre, Nell Frisbie, Ginny Gex, Nancy Gex, Nancy Ginn, Linda Haas, Eleanor Hill, Paddy Johnson, Connie Maggio, Dootsie Murphy, Sue Onstad, Lyn Parrish, Vivian Rosetti, Grace Santa Cruz, Susan Seuzeneau, Ethel Schott, Virginia Wagner, Paula Woodfin, and Sandy Wyatt.

As a result of this Developmental Screening Project one hundred ninety-six children were evaluated in all basic areas of learning at no cost to the school system or the parents, and children with potential learning difficulties were identified for further intensive evaluation. Through using the test results teachers and administrators within the school system have become more familiar with an individualized approach to teaching based on the unique potential of each child. Several workshops have been held to acquaint teachers with needed curriculum materials and program techniques, as well as the results of the evaluations. Also, this project has served as a model for future programs in the evaluation and screening of pre-school and elementary school children to help facilitate individualized teaching for every child.

FAIR DINNER

A kick-off dinner for St. Clare's annual church fair workers will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, April 8* in St. Clare's School cafeteria. Parishioners and friends of St. Clare's are invited to attend. Ladies in the Parish are asked to bring a covered dish at 12:30 p.m. For further information call Mrs. Geraldine Von Antz, dinner chairman, at 467-3553 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. and after 2 p.m. at 467-4701. Mrs. Adrien Chagnard is co-chairman of the affair.

The date of the fair was set for Saturday, August 4, and Sunday August 5.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

With some sunny days over the past weekend fishing seems to be getting a little better. Salt water fishing hasn't gotten any better but plenty perch and a few green trout are being caught mostly by still fishing (with pole and line) using red earthworms. The fish won't take black worms, only the red ones. Worms can be purchased by the box—or better still—they can be dug where old leaves or mold can be found. This is the advice of those catching the fish.

No boat is needed as fishing from the bank is paying off. The water is on the bad side but mostly Perch, Bluegill, Sac-a-lot, and Lake Runners are in the majority. They are being caught in the bays, shallow lakes and ponds where the water is half way clear. They are being caught while fishing underwater. Fishermen were seen fishing each day in the sloughs and canals at the mouth of Watts Bayou out by Ted Lyman's lake.

Among those catching their share Saturday and Sunday were Ed Nelson, E.J. Nelson, and James Nelson. They had a string about 4 feet long.

Another twosome catching some nice perch were Eric Necaise and his grandson, Lynne Shaw. Both are ardent fishermen and usually get their share when they go fishing. Lynne is one of our younger fishermen.

Harry Roman and Willie Payne took a boat trip over Lake Pontchartrain looking for some good fishing water and speckles. They reported that the water in the lake was rather clear but near the banks, it was dirty. Both these men do a lot of fishing near North Shore where speckle trout fishing is excellent when conditions are right.

Sleepy Dedaux loves his fishing. Goes whenever he can. Does mostly salt water fishing.

Harvey Mitchell is a commercial fisherman. Fishes mostly out at the marshes. Harvey is a grandson of the late I.T.W. Mitchell who will be remembered by most oldtimers. He was at one time constable and an ardent fisherman. Harvey does most any kind of fishing.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK Clarence Beauden is a new resident of Waveland. He hails from New Orleans and loves his fishing as well as raising a vegetable garden, which are his favorite pastimes.

ceneaux, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bonck, Jr., and family, J.T. Larrasa and family and Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Helms made a four-day fishing trip to Toledo Bend Lake in North Louisiana recently. They stayed on the Texas side of the lake. Ed said they caught some mighty big bass. Even the small fry caught their share of fish. Toledo Bend Lake is known world wide for its excellent bass and perch fishing. It is about 350 miles from Bay St. Louis but is worth the trip, Ed said. It is 8 miles in width.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Theobald have a home in Shoreline Park. They and the kids do a lot of fishing. They are off the Kiln Road.

Was a pleasure meeting David E. Verlander who now lives in New Orleans. Mr. Verlander for years lived at DeLisle, Miss. His friends in those days were Wm. Keel, Sr., Doc Dedaux, Merle Necaise, Brother Ladner Necaise and other old timers. Talking to him brought back a lot of happy memories of those days.

Just a reminder, remember the Seafood Dinner to be held on April 6th at St. Stanislaus Cafeteria 5 to 8 p.m. Come and enjoy a real fish dinner. Mingle with your fishing buddies and help a worthy cause. It will be sponsored by the S.S.C. Sideline Club.

Track opened on Tuesday night in Jefferson Parish for the next two months. Makes up a party and attend the race. It is a lot of fun for those who like it.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon for Ed P. Oette, a former president of the Board of Supervisors. It is with regret that we make this report. Ed was a life-time fisherman and a wonderful guy. Fishing was his favorite pastime. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Clois Dedaux was showing us his completed skiff which he built himself. It is a good looking job. Sturdy, seaworthy and should furnish a lot of fishing pleasure for him and his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Daniels came over from New Orleans Saturday night to attend the wake of Ed P. Oette. They will be back soon to do some fishing, crabbing, and soft crabbing.

Boy Scouts are growing each year in numbers and troops. Also are the number of men giving their time to the advancement of scouting. In Bay St. Louis a district Roundtable Meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at American Legion Home on April 18. All unit leaders and committeemen invited. Help the scouts—you need them and they need you. Become active, you'll enjoy it.

An effective way to catch bass and perch while using a pole and line is to use a tight line only, with a sinker and hook, no cork. Let the sinker hit the bottom and pull up about a foot. It is easy to feel the fish hit the line. Good way to fish among tree tops and through lily pads.

According to the Tide Table there should be low tides during the next few days. Low tides make for better bass fishing.

There will be plenty politicians fishing for votes from now on. Election for commissioners and mayor is coming up soon. Hard to tell what kind of bait they will be using.

Sportsman Club of Clermont Harbor and Waveland. The bird had an 8 1/4 inch beak. According to Claude better management and sportsmanship will improve turkey hunting aptly. It is a high type of hunting and is for real sports. Claude is a past master at hunting the wild birds.

Lawrence LaFontaine and Shirley Davis and the kids are ardent fishermen. Alan LaFontaine, Judy, Nancy, Janet and Charlie Davis do a lot of perch fishing. They went Monday of this week, but don't know how many they caught.

Give us a few more days like the ones over the weekend and fishing will come into its own. It was reported that some speckles and red fish were caught by the culverts down Bayou Caddy way. Bass and perch fishing is improving right along. The bayous are showing some improvement near the heads, that is, I mean the water is getting better all the time. A few days of fallen tides will help wonderfully.

I have been asked several times where earthworms can be purchased for still fishing. Would like to pass this word along. Please let me know if you have them for sale or where they may be gotten.
